

Project Title: FixItNow - All services at one place

Domain: Web Based Application

Mentor: Dr S.Archana

Abstract:

FixItNow is a web-based platform that connects users with local home service professionals (plumbers, electricians, appliance technicians, carpenters, etc.) based on their location and availability. Users can view service provider profiles, book jobs, and track service status. Service providers (workers) can register, manage job requests, and update availability. The platform features secure authentication, role-based access, notifications, and asynchronous processing using message queues for booking confirmations and job updates.
